RAILROAD NOTES.

Detectives Jim Hendricks, of the Louisville detective force, and Jim Gorley, of the Illinois Central railroad, raided a deserted barn near the Louisville almshouse Friday night, and recovered over $2000 worth of property, the accumulation of several weeks of systematic robbery of the Illinois Central freight cars. The railroad officials have been greatly troubled of late over systematic robbery of their cars between South Louisville and the almshouse. The detectives who were put on the case were at first completely baffled. Two days ago a clue was secured, which resulted in the recovery of the stolen property. The two detectives are close on the trail of the robbers and expect to land them soon.

Conductor Will E. Baker, of the city, who has been running on the Evansville division of the Illinois Central, was called to Evansville Saturday by a telegram that his wife, Lillian, has been on a visit there for several days. He had presented him with two fine baby babies.

Pickett, a colored I. C. Central, was brought to the I. C. Central by a telegram that his wife, Lillian, has been on a visit there for several days. He had presented him with two fine baby babies.

NEWS FROM FRANKFORT.

Democratic Candidates Getting Ready For the Next Senatorial Campaign—Gov. Brown May Enter.

Senator Goebel's Chances For the Gubernatorial Nomination Good—Rumored That Bradley May Run.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 20.—The effort to bring ex-Gov. John Young Brown into the governor's race is just what Jo Blackburn's friends have wanted for some time, as they have known that the former governor was priming his guns for a try at the senatorial target. It has been thought here that the most dangerous opponent Blackburn would have to fear was Mr. Brown with Congressman John B. Rhea, of the Third district, looming up as a dark horse who could count on a good, safe following before the race opened. The announcement of strained relations between Rhea and Blackburn is but ancient history' revamped by penny-antlers who were out of something political to write about. Politicians recall the fact that during Rhea's hot light against Dr. Hunter, Senator Blackburn never once made an effort to aid the distinguished orator of Logan county, but it is said by some that Blackburn didn't think Rhea stood a ghost of a show and turned his attention to the Eighth district in a herculean effort to elect John B. Thompson to Congress. What money Rhea got was raised by Committee Woodson, who was set to get but a few hundred and then ran practically without any help from any source, and won. His friends think, although Dr. Hunter is now prosecuting a contest. It is said by the knowing ones that Rhea will not forget this, and being ambitious, and withal popular, he will be in at the finish in the Senatorial struggle. So will John Young Brown, the vaporings of alleged wisecracks to the contrary notwithstanding.

Mayor Weaver, of Louisville, has just appointed Mr. R. Lee Suter to a good place on the city executive board, and this removes from the Louisville congressional race the only announced candidate for the democratic nomination, although efforts are being made to induce ex-Gov. Brown to enter this race and quit the senatorial scramble, and if he does he will be a strong candidate. Judge Sterling B. Toney, of the law and equity court, and Col. W. B. Fleming, ex-state central chairman, are regarded as suitable congressional candidates, although it is argued by some democrats that both are in the white metal to the republican party. The one who can win the relations of the district.

And Gets Off With a Sentence For Life.

Harboursville, Ky., Dec. 20.—Isam Lawson, the eighteen-year-old boy who murdered his father last spring, was today sentenced to the penitentiary for life. The elder Lawson was a Baptist preacher and his son shot him down in the field. It was only his youth that saved his life.

Coal Boats Sink.
Pittsburg, Dec. 20.—The towboat Sam Brown, en route for Cincinnati, Saturday, ran into the bank near Bellair and sunk nine coal boats. The coal was valued at $15,000. The damage to the Brown was $1,000. The towboat B. D. Wood ran through her machinery Saturday at Parkersburg, W. Va. William Lee, fireman, died within a few hours.

Alleged Discovery of Precious Metals.

Vanceburg, Ky., Dec. 10.—There is great excitement at Valley, eight miles south of here, on Salt creek, over the discovery of gold, zinc and silver in that vicinity. A large tract of land on which these metals have been found has been leased, and the work of developing the find has begun. J. M. Denham, a prominent merchant, is backing the enterprise.

Will Go to the Klondyke.
Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 18.—Ex-Senator Ed Parker, of London, who has just been awarded star route mail contracts aggregating $400,000, is preparing to go to the Klondyke in June. He was a bidder for the Klondyke route, but was defeated by the Pacific Navigation company.

MORE NEW LOCOMOTIVES.

The Illinois Central Gets Two More Monster Passenger Engines—Used on the Memphis Division.

The Night Runs of Conductors Changed From Louisville to Memphis—Other Railroad News.

The new time card on the Illinois Central went into effect yesterday, and the "Cannon ball" No. 203 arrived on time to the second this morning.

The company yesterday brought in for use between Memphis and Paducah two brand new eight-wheel locomotives with steamboat whistles. These monster machines went into use last night, and are among the biggest and fastest locomotives in the country. They are decorated in gold, and increase the company's number of big passenger engines from six to eight. Six of these have been in use between Louisville and Paducah for some time. The two new ones will be run between Paducah and Memphis.

Last night Engineer Pat Hogan came from Mayfield to Paducah in twenty-six minutes, a distance of twenty-four miles. The run averaged less than a mile a minute, as the train was under the shed at the Union depot in twenty-six minutes, and Mayfield is twenty-five miles, not including the distance from the yards here to the Union depot.

Beginning today the conductors on the Illinois Central "Cannon ball," which go through Paducah only every morning, will run from Louisville to Memphis instead of Louisville to Fulton. The change is made because the time made is so good that the otherwise long run is thus made very short.

"I remember a few years ago," remarked an old railroad man today, "when Engineer Joe Randall made a run from Louisville to Memphis in twelve hours the Courier-Journal and all the other big papers heralded it as a remarkably good run. Now we all make it in about ten hours, and by gum," he concluded, "we ain't satisfied yet."

KLONDYKE RELIEF.

Secretary Alger Will Use Snow Locomotives and Reindeer to Carry Supplies.

At Least a Dozen Relief Parties Will Be Started Soon.

Washington, Dec. 20.—The expeditions which will be sent to the relief of the starving miners in the Klondyke will be remarkable in many respects. Snow locomotives are to be used for beating a trail and 600 reindeer will be purchased for hauling most of the supplies. The locomotives, with sled trains, will be at the service of the war department. Secretary Alger, with proposition at his disposal, has decided that these locomotives will be used in part of the relief work. He will also stipulate that the reindeer will be used for hauling the supplies.

of the subsistence department of the army who is in New Orleans, directing him to take charge of the purchase and distribution of the relief supplies.

Secretary Alger wants to hear at once from all manufacturers of condensed food. He would like for them to furnish rates for supplying canned provisions to be taken to the starving miners.

GORED TO DEATH AT A BULL FIGHT

An American and Three Mexican Spectators Killed at Guadalajara.

San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 20.—A letter was received here from J. T. Dimmitt, stating that his son, Lawrence Dimmitt, a mining engineer of Rosario, Mex., was fatally gored by a bull while attending a bull fight at Guadalajara last Sunday. The maddened bull leaped over the wall separating the amphitheater from the ring, trampling under foot the panic-stricken spectators, Mexicans of the lower class, who were seated on the unprotected benches nearest the wall. Three spectators, the letter said, were gored to death, and the bull made its way to the boxes, where it caught Dimmitt and ran one of its horns through his chest. Two of the guards dispatched the animal with sabers. Dimmitt was taken to the Hospicio Municipal, where he succumbed to his injuries Monday night. The Jefe Politico of the district has ordered an investigation.

GONE WRONG.

Has Another Good Insurance Man of Louisville.

Louisville, Dec. 20.—Joseph Clarke, one of the best known and most successful life insurance solicitors ever known here, has been absent from the city the past two weeks. Several irregular transactions are said to have been brought to light since his departure. Clarke was until a month ago employed by the New York Life, and Mr. Noble, the local manager of the company, says his company will lose nothing by Clarke, as they made him pay everything before he left. Officers of the German Insurance bank say that a check for $2000, drawn by C. Mengel, Jr., in favor of the New York Life Insurance Company was cashed by Clarke without authority, and that the bank will lose that amount. Clarke is now in New York, and it is said that he has gone there to make a contract with another insurance company.

DURRANT'S FATHER

Wanted to Get His Son's Personal Effects.

San Francisco, Dec. 20.—William Durrant, father of the condemned murderer of Blanche Lamont, Saturday asked the district attorney for the effects of his son, which have been held by the property clerk since April, 1895. The request was refused till the prisoner is executed or otherwise disposed of. They may be wanted in the trial for the murder of Minnie Williams, he having been tried on this charge.

y, and to very strange if Secretary Congress itself, through its individual members, does not at times seek the advice of the leading financiers of this country. But the man whose advice is sought is not he who figures in wheat corners, or wrecks railroads, or he whose name has become a synonym for trusts or combines. Some knowledge is required, in order properly to shape our national system of finance, besides that of the alleged historical parallel between the prices of silver and wheat, and yet even Mr. Bryan has displayed evidence of but little beyond that. This country will never reach the full measure of prosperity to which it is entitled until the nation's finances are taken out of the field of party politics. The advent of that day may mark the approach of the millennium, but the above statement holds true nevertheless.

DEMOCRACY'S LATEST.
The Louisville Dispatch says:
The new constitution of South Carolina, which goes into effect January, 1, 1898, requires the voter to be able to show to the satisfaction of the registration officer that he is able to read and write. That will practically eliminate the negro vote of South Carolina, and some such qualification will have to be eventually adopted in all the states having a large negro population as a matter of self-defense. It may be done by constitutional provision, or it may be done by statutes. In Kentucky we may approximate the matter by leaving off the emblems from the ballots, and that ought to be done.

In other words the negro must be disfranchised because he is a negro.
Such is the length to which the party of free silver is willing to go, and the legitimate result of the Chicago platform as expressed by Bryan, Altgeld, Tillman, Blackburn and others. If the Democratic party desires to add treason to their platform in 1900 and go before the country upon the question of disfranchising the negro, the Republican party will gladly take up the gauntlet. The Constitution of the United States is a thing not to be trifled with; and a party that proposes to trample it in the dust as that party has already proposed to rob the courts of their independence, and to despoil private ownership of property of its sanctity, such a party will not merely be defeated in the polls, it will be destroyed.

It is barely possible that the next time a man is brought before Judge Falconer, of Lexington, for slaying the destroyer of his home, that the Judge will not render his "higher law" decision. It seems that Jacob Harris, who shot Thos. H. Merritt for destroying his home and happiness, in that he had caught the said Merritt in a compromising position with his wife, has reconsidered the proposition, and has concluded that his home was not entirely destroyed.
Harris has forgiven his erring wife and is again living with her. This strange and unlooked for action on the part of Harris has caused a revulsion of feeling in Lexington, and Harris accordingly languishes in jail under an indictment for murder, and not being able to give bond, Harris will have to stand trial; he will possibly be convicted, as the only arguments in his defense are but appeals in various ways to the sympathies of the jury, and public opinion is now against the alleged criminal. Should conviction follow, however, the penitentiary will be band claim he did not hear him. He denied placing the other part in the urnal.

He was held to answer in the sum of $100. Stegar is a well known

Tried on Three Charges.
Will Houseman was tried in Justice Dunaway's court Saturday on three charges, for carrying concealed a deadly weapon, a breach of the peace and craps shooting. The first charge was dismissed, he was fined 1 cent and costs for a breach of the peace and $20 and costs for craps shooting.

TWENTY-SEVEN WARRANTS
For Indulging in the Seductive Games of Craps and Poker.

Twenty-seven young men, many of them prominent, were warranted late Saturday afternoon on a charge of gaming. Their craps and poker games extend back several months, and some of them will likely contest the charge.

This morning ten or twelve of the warrants had been executed, and the defendants all pleaded guilty and were fined $20 and costs each.

The other cases were continued.

its editorial expressions, is absolutely representative of the dominating spirit, the aims and ambitions of the Republican party of the United States. Staunch, stable and true, it is fearless in support of measures calculated to promote general prosperity and public morals, and is never swayed from devotion to the principles of the party.

They are arraigned in Judge Sanders' court today, and Goran acted as spokesman. He said he was a tramp but had a good trade.
"That old excuse used to work, but it won't work now," remarked Judge Sanders. "There's no excuse for a man with a good trade not having work."

The three then pleaded guilty to vagrancy and were sentenced to 30 days each on the chain gang at hard labor.

Judge Sanders then made some well-timed remarks on tramps. He said a few years ago people used to have sympathy for tramps, but now they have none. He called attention to three burly looking spectacles on the dock, who had been taken from a goods train, and de-

MRS. W. W. WHITE DEAD.

Succumbed to Malarial Fever After a Month's Illness.

Mrs. Amanda White, wife of Mr.
W. W. White, the well-known former grocer, died yesterday at the family residence, 629 South Ninth street, after an illness of four weeks from malarial fever.

The deceased was 33 years of age and her home was formerly at Hopkinsville, where her people now reside. She leaves in addition to a husband four or five children.

The remains were taken to Hopkinsville on the 8 o'clock train this morning for interment.

MAYFIELD SPORT

Is Caught With a Jug and a Pistol.

L. B. Palmer, a young man of Mayfield, was arrested last night by Officers Eaker and Orr on a charge of drunkenness. He was on South Second street, and had quite a load.
When taken to the city hall and searched a pistol was found on his person. He was locked up and this morning asked for a continuance that he might communicate with friends in Mayfield. Judge Sanders granted the request.

RAID ON TRAMPS.

Three Vags Will Spend Christmas in the Lockup.

Officers Ullman, Johnson, Cross and Bond made a raid on the "tin shanty" out by the railroad "Y" last night in the rain, and captured George Goran, of Baltimore; Harold Baker, of Richmond; and Charles Stewart, of Sanbourn, Iowa. A razor was found on one.

They are arraigned in Judge
Sanders' court today, and Goran
acted as spokesman. He said he features of the affair, supplemented by music, addresses, and short talks.

New County School Superintendent.

Prof. James Hughes, county school superintendent-elect, who has for the past eight years been teaching a school at Florence Station, this county, will close his school Thursday, and leave his pupils for a couple of years, at least, for on January 1st he assumes his official duties, and will be installed in his office at the county court house. Prof. Hughes is one of the best educators in the county, and is universally popular.

No Market Next Saturday.

Market Master Smith has announced that there will be no market next Saturday, Christmas day, and the Foreman Tuttle's Accident.

Mr. Eugene Tuttle, a well known carpenter of the city, who is foreman of the carpenters' forces at Eddyville on the penitentiary improvements, fell from a scaffold Saturday from the second story and broke one leg at the ankle and sprained the other leg, as well as a wrist. The accident will lay him up for some time.

Fell Into a Sewer Ditch.

Streeter Adams, colored cook at the county jail, was the victim of a painful accident on North Third street, between Broadway and Jefferson, Saturday night. He fell into the sewerage trench, but hit bottom at a depth of eight feet. His back was wrenched and an arm had a narrow escape from being broken, and although he cried lustily for help, no one happened to be near, and was compelled to get out the best way he could. He complained at police headquarters that there was no light at the point where he took the tumble.

WRITTEN AT RANDOM

There is doubtless more truth than grammar in the Register's statement yesterday morning that "All day yesterday a court of inquiry, which, by the way, failed to come under the 'observance' of the afternoon papers, was held at the city hall."

It would take all the billy goats in Christendom to supply the youngsters of Louisville with what they want Christmas. The Louisville Times has been for a couple of weeks past publishing letters "to Santa Claus" sent to this old gent in care of the Times. Without exaggeration, nine out of every ten boys want a "billy goat and pinto wagon," and nothing else on earth will satisfy them. Louisville ought to be the Mecca of billy goat raisers, for there they can realize a fortune by selling out to Santa Claus when he strikes the metropolis. And if every youth in Louisville gets what he wants Christmas, the town will soon be as odiferous as a populist pow-wow in mid-summer.

A joke is told at the expense of Mr. Napoleon Tabscott, a prominent Republican of the county. He came to town the other day to buy salt. He wanted a whole barrel, for "hog-killing" time was on hand, and everybody who has ever lived in the country knows what an important event this is in the course of rural events. But Mr. Tabscott felt the importance of his mission for another reason, and this was: It was to be the first whole barrel of salt he had ever owned at one time in his life.

He found when he started in quest of the salt, however, that a "trust" had been formed. All the grocers asked $1.20 for a barrel, but after visiting several places he found one enterprising gentleman who agreed to sell a barrel for $1.10. Mr. Tabscott paid the price, but another grocer was on to the sale, and proceeded to raise a robust row with the other grocer for breaking the "trust." The last named grocer then returned Mr. Tabscott his $1.10, the salt not having yet been delivered, and the trade was declared off. Mr. Tabscott finally paid the $1.20.

He was relating his experience with the "trust" in a crowd soon afterwards when a Democrat stepped up and jokingly said, "Yes, Poly, that's what you get for voting the Republican ticket and helping elect a man who advocates trusts!" "Humph!" retorted Mr. Tabscott, "if McKinley hadn't been elected to bring prosperity I'd never have had enough money to buy a whole barrel of salt at any price as long as I lived!"

The city and county authorities have more trouble providing for the wants of destitute people than one would imagine. In addition to a lack of funds to supply demands in certain exigencies, they are continually harassed by the imposition of unworthy people. There are a great many imposters going around the country who live at the expense of their fellow men. All on earth they two days from one place to of being sanitation furnished eration, wind of them. They elient for event, and his-omination. They be given local has no HOODLUMS, yet Thanks Out did, and found that the first four bills amounted to but $30. I couldn't account for the discrepancy any other way except that he had failed to give me the right amount, and of course did what I thought was the best under the circumstances. I don't see how the other bill ever got to the bottom of the drawer."

Police officers say that while negroes are the easiest people on earth to fall out, fight and kill among themselves, they are the hardest people on earth, as a rule, to get any information from that would likely get another person of their color into trouble.

When a policeman has a warrant to execute on a negro whose home or place of work is unknown to him he can scarcely ever find out the desired facts from another darkey, unless he happens to strike one who "has it in" for the accused.

Constables report the same difficulty in serving garnishees. Although one darkey may know all about another, where he lives and where he can be found, he persistently declares to the constable that he never heard of such a man as the officer makes inquiry of. Then he warns the other, who disposes of his money so the garnishee cannot force him to pay his debts.

Rev. W. E. Glover administered the ordinance of baptism to five candidates last Sunday, at the foot of Jefferson street in the presence of a large and respectful audience. Owing to the continued indisposition of Rev. Hawkins, for the membership of whose church, the candidates were baptized, Rev. Glover kindly consented to officiate.

Mayfield, Ky., Dec. 15.—The entertainment given by the ladies of the Pansy club, at Odd Fellows' hall, on Thursday evening last, was one of the grandest receptions ever witnessed in our city. At 8:30 o'clock the reception hall was thronged with thirty couples of our best society ladies and gentlemen. Decorated walls, bright lights and thrilling music only added to the mirth and gaiety of the richly costumed parties and it was very much to be regretted by all present that the editor of the Star's colored column, and other Paducahians were absent. At 11:30 o'clock supper was served and the band played on to the following:

Menu—Ham, turkey, potato salad, pickles, chicken salad, bread, coffee, fruits, candies, etc., etc.

B. G. B.

All churches preparing for Christmas trees or other entertainments during the holidays will please hand in their announcements as soon as possible, and thereby avoid being crowded out.

When you begin to talk about your neighbor, stop and study whether she has not as much right to talk about you as you have to talk about her.

Just think of it, children and grown folks, too, it is only five days from now until we shall witness another Christmas. Then will come the fire-crackers, the Roman candles, the whooping and yelling, the exchanging of gifts and greetings, the good cheer, but sad, sad to say comes also the mischief-maker that is apt to get mixed up in all this. How nice it would be if every man, woman and child would determine to spend the holidays just as they would at a quiet Sunday school picnic.

Mr. James Bryant is on the sick list.

Mr. B. G. B., of Mayfield, Ky., will pardon us for delaying the publication of his communication. We have been a little over run for space, but let us hear from you again.

Mr. Horace Smith, of Twelfth street, died last Saturday night and was buried this afternoon at the Odd Fellows' cemetery. He was at one time a minister of the gospel and for a time janitor of Washington street Baptist church. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. E. Glover at the above named place. He was born in 1814 and was 74 years of age at the time of his death.
